

Welcome!

My Web Expression was made for everybody who wants to join the World Wide Web with a professional site, with faboulous graphic and lower price!

About me

My name is Federico Zivolo, some of you might know me as Fez Vrasta, I'm Italian, and currently living in Italy. I'm a professional web designer and web developer, with the passion for the web and the open source.

Web and sites have always been my passion and my hobbies since i was a little toddler, now that I'm not anymore I develop for important customers like: banks, insurances companies, towns and stores.

In order to develop web sites I mainly use Javascript, HTML and CSS. Node.js allows me to optimize my workflow removing one server side language from the set of used languages, getting an high yield both in terms of performance and developement time.
